Jackson is a Graduate Town Planner who moved to Canberra from the sunny Gold Coast and joined SPACELAB to grow his career in planning.

Jackson has experience in handling the town planning for projects across the ACT, NSW, and VIC, in order to gain the best planning outcomes for the development and the client. These projects encompass a range of residential and commercial developments, with Jackson helping to see a range of developments through to completion.

He also has experience in liaising with a wide array of entities including government agencies, sub-consultants, and clients.

In his spare time, you will likely find Jackson cheering on his favourite sports teams or going hiking or skiing (depending on the season).
