SPACELAB was engaged as part of the design team for the new $165 million NSW Government project that will deliver a fit-for-purpose facility that will continue to deliver high-quality healthcare for the Goulburn region into the future.

SPACELAB provided landscape design for the new entry areas, public and staff car parks and internal courtyard spaces. It was critical that the courtyard spaces provided a private, calming space for the patients and visitors, as well as being visually appealing from within the hospital itself. The design intent was to create green views from all areas inside to promote a relaxing and uplifting experience for those experiencing hardship and difficulty.

SPACELAB also worked in collaboration with the Goulburn Rose Society to design a new memorial rose garden for the site which included the relocation of existing memorial roses planted by families of patients over the years.
