SPACELAB was engaged to undertake the Development Application and Landscape Architecture for a terrace housing development located in Taylor. The proposal consisted of 58 dwellings, all having access to individual courtyards, with a landscaped area of communal open space provided within the development.

SPACELAB worked closely with the wider project team to facilitate the development approval and landscaped communal areas and private courtyards for each of the terrace homes.

Taylor is one of the ACT's newer greenfield suburbs. Ambia will help to shape the character of the surrounding area, adding a terrace housing component within the mix of housing typologies.
