Almost a decade ago, Cher rebranded a well-established urban design and landscape architecture practice into SPACELAB.

Cher's leadership of her team of urban designers, town planners and landscape architects is core to SPACELAB's growth whose work includes residential land estates, master planning, multi-unit residential and mixed-use developments, parks, playgrounds, Development application and project design team management. She is responsible for resource allocation, overseeing project deliverables and maintaining SPACELAB's quality management system.

Cher excels within her synergistic skill set holding qualifications in Landscape Architecture, Security and Risk management, Human Resource management, Public Relations as Workplace Training and Assessment, and property.

With a career spanning 30 years, Cher combines creative thinking and problem solving with the ability to unite her team and create momentum on complex and often sensitive projects.

She is engaged in stakeholder and community consultation, concept development, documentation review, and ensures SPACELAB consistently delivers high-quality projects on time and within budget.

Cher is a keen jet skier and boating enthusiast and enjoys competing at dog shows with her 2 Rhodesian Ridgebacks who are also SPACELAB's office dogs.
