AINSLIE, ACT

- Landscape Architecture
- Statutory Planning
- Community Facilities
- Stakeholder & Community
- Placemaking

SPACELAB was engaged to provide statutory planning services, landscape architecture and community consultation services for a new childcare centre in the heart of Ainslie.

Our Landscape Architects provided a brief to the project architect to ensure that the design respected and retained high value trees on site. This incorporation of the existing landscape within the design of the building extended into the design of the children's play areas, which were designed by our landscape architects and designers to ensure the play areas could seamlessly incorporate designed play equipment.

Extensive stakeholder and community consultation was undertaken by SPACELAB. Feedback received supported the single level design, the scale of the building and materiality which is consistent with the surrounding streetscape. We prepared all DA documentation and liaised with the planning authority and other government agencies.

SPACELAB's comprehensive approach to the project will result in a much needed, high-quality community facility, which will provide service to many of families in the inner north for many years to come.
