12 years ago, Cher rebranded a well-established urban design and landscape architecture practice into SPACELAB.

Cher's leadership of her team of experienced urban designers, town planners, 3D modellers, project design managers and landscape architects is core to SPACELAB's growth, whose work includes residential land estates, master planning, multi-unit residential and mixed-use developments, sporting clubs, playgrounds and sports facilities, development applications and project design team management. She is responsible for resource allocation, overseeing project deliverables and maintaining SPACELAB's quality management system.

Cher excels within her synergistic skill set holding qualifications in Landscape Architecture, Security and Risk Management, Human Resource Management, Public Relations, Workplace Training and Assessment, and Property.

With a career spanning almost 40 years, Cher combines creative thinking and problem solving with the ability to unite her team and create momentum on complex and often sensitive projects.

She is engaged in all aspects of the business and strives to ensure her team at SPACELAB consistently delivers high-quality projects on time and within budget.

Cher is a keen jet skier and boating enthusiast and enjoys competing at dog shows with her 2 Rhodesian Ridgebacks who are also SPACELAB's office dogs.
