Jamie relocated from Rural NSW to Canberra for study earning his Bachelor of the Built Environment (Architecture). Throughout his degree Jamie honed his skills in urban design, drafting and graphic design.

Since joining the SPACELAB planning team in 2025, Jamie has become well-versed in the Territory Plan and the broader ACT planning framework. With a considered and proactive approach, he brings a strong work ethic and a 'can-do' attitude whilst contributing to projects that shape the future of the local community.

Jamie is driven to obtain the very best outcome for our clients and is committed to providing exceptional service whilst growing his expertise in urban design and town planning.

In his free time Jamie enjoys playing AFL on the weekends, following anything NBA related and making a poor attempt at sharpening his golf game.
